Ms. Schneider,

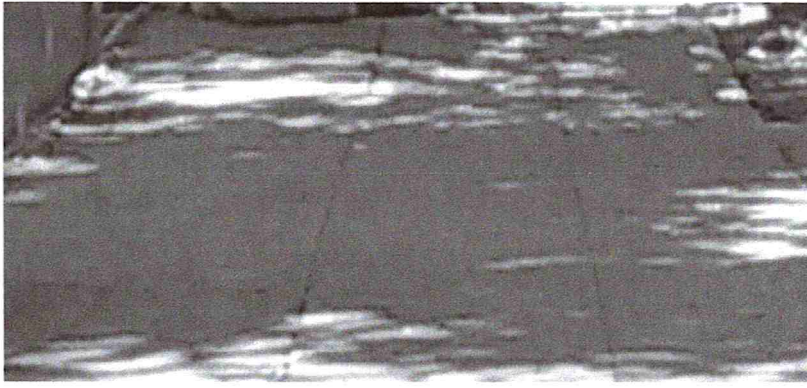

Thanks for your response. I will give your office a call. I was just about to drop the issue when I walked outside this morning and saw the attached picture. This woman will tell anyone who tells her anything that she "will cut you." This is in front of the apartment building next door. That is a school in the back of the picture and there's another school right across the street.

I think that just more police patrol would help. Thanks again.

Regards,
